BREWING PROCESS

At Smuttynose, we're known for our widely popular kettle sours, using a preferred high-quality strain of Lactobacillus during the 2-day souring process, producing a signature tartness that is perfectly balanced by sweet fruit flavors and a malty backbone.

Hundreds of pounds of fresh pineapple and orange purees are used to produce our sour version of a popular cocktail, the Painkiller. Essence of coconut mixes perfectly with the tropical citrus base and added lactose provides a creamy mouthfeel throughout, making this the perfect summer sipper.
